A quick reminders of events coming up...

Open Evening at Danesfield C of E Middle School for Year 4 parents:

Mr Bradbury and I look forward to seeing you at this important meeting. We are planning our transition year at the moment and we will be able to let you know about the full programme shortly. We are increasing the number of visits, activities and opportunities for our Year 4 children to get to know the Danesfield staff. We would welcome any thoughts from parents and carers about how this transition stage could be improved, preferably this week if at all possible.

Bikes and helmets:

Please can I ask that any child riding a bike to school wears a helmet to ensure their safety. It is also advisable to keep the children within sight even if they remain on the school site as it does get very busy and young children don't always have the best road sense!

Parrot Club:

Don't forget to sign up for the holiday activities by Friday so that we know numbers.

Celebration Assembly this Friday:

If your child took part in the library's Reading Challenge, we will be presenting the certificates during this assembly. We also will be able to enjoy all the outfits that the children will be wearing on the day. The other important element of the assembly will be to say our thank yous and goodbyes to Gordon Perkins who is retiring from the school. He has done so much for the school and we will miss his input.

And finally...

I heard over the grapevine that some people have been concerned at a rumour about last Friday. Please be assured that we did not have any intruder on our school grounds and that the Police are always great at communicating with us if they think that the safety of children is at risk. If you ever are worried about something you have heard, please do contact us in school as we may be unaware or, if there was a problem, may have dealt with it already.

Wishing you all a happy half term and we look forward to seeing all the children back at school after half term on Wednesday 2 November.
